The 9th edition The Big Meeting, which annually meets the boards of the Casais Group, was held on January 3rd at the University of Minho, in Braga. This year more than 400 employees participated in the work day, and this was filled by lectures and by the interventions of the Administrators of the Casais Group. The event also featured a Vox Pop with employee questions for all administrators, as well as a Wrap Up by the CEO of Casais EC, António Carlos Rodrigues. The playful moment of the day was in charge of the comedian Pedro Neves and his intervention entitled "Evolution with Humor". The 9th edition ended with an internal video about the evolution of the company, what we built and what perspectives and objectives we want to achieve.
